SILHOUETTE EDITION

AS THE SILHOUETTE IS A
CHARACTERIZATION
IN OUTLINE SO IS THIS BOOK
A SILHOUETTE OR CHAR-ACTERIZATION OF THE
YEAR'S WORK AND PLAY AT HAYS

THE 1930 REVEILLE IS A PRES-ENTATION OF INDIVIDUALS
AND EVENTS WHOSE SIL-HOUETTE WAS CAUGHT IN ITS FLIGHT ACROSS THE
CANVAS OF TIME AND RE-TAINED IN PERMANENT
FORM IN THIS VOLUME.

WE TRUST THAT THIS SIL-
HOUETTE IS IN CHARACTER
WITH THE HIGH ASPIRA-TIONS, RESPONSIBILITIES AND
IDEALS OF OUR ALMA
MATER WHOSE DUTY IT IS
TO SERVE THE GREAT EM-PIRE OF WESTERN KANSAS

If you will observe, it doesn't take
A man of giant mould to make
A giant shadow on the wall;
And he who in our daily sight
Seems but a figure mean and small,
Outlined in Fame's illusive light;
May stalk, a silhouette sublime,
Across the canvas of his time.

Author's Night.

FOREWORD

THE SILHOUETTE OF A LIFE OF SERVICE, CULTURE, IDEALS AND ABILITY IMBUE WITH AN ENNOBLING SPIRIT IS THE PICTURE PORTRAYED UPON THE CANVAS OF TIME BY THE WORKS AND DEEDS OF THE MAN TO WHOM WE WHOLE-HEARTEDLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK, PROFESSOR ROY RANKIN, A.B., A.M.

Hays Teachers College

The history of Hays Teachers College, preceded by fifty years of struggle for possession of the plains, has not always been a story of uninterrupted progress. We are now harvesting where brave pioneers have sown. The annals of the past contain the names of many men who have written the stirring history of these Western Kansas Plains. Their names and romances are the priceless traditions of this school.

Old Fort Hays was one of the line of military posts established soon after the Civil War to protect construction camps of the Union Pacific Railroad and the pioneers who had pushed their way westward. It was first located on Big Creek about fifteen miles southeast of the present location and it was then called Fort Fletcher. A disastrous flood destroyed the Post in June, 1867. There are many visible marks of this old fort that can still be seen. The building foundations, rifle pits, and barbecue ovens are easily traced. After the destruction of this fort a higher site was selected where two buildings still remain, about one mile south of the present city of Hays.

Hays was founded in 1867 and its industrial and social interests were intimately bound with the life of the Fort.

The Fort Hays Military Post was abandoned in 1889 and various plans were suggested for the disposal of the land comprising the reservation. Homesteaders realized its value and were anxious to file on it, but the far-sighted pioneer saw a better future for this ground and suggested that it be used for public purposes. Finally in March, 1900, an act was passed by congress granting the land to the state to be used for a State Normal School, an experiment station for the Agricultural College, and a public park.

The Normal School was started in 1902 with William S. Picken as principal and two teachers. Since that time the faculty has increased to fifty-seven members. Dr. William Alexander Lewis succeeded Picken in August, 1913, and is still guiding the destinies of our school.

The Student Council is an organization for the purpose of governing the student problems which arise throughout the year. There are two members selected from each class and three from the student body as a whole. The class presidents are ex-officio members of the council. They are a broad minded group of young people who help to make the Student Body more representative by self-government.

They like to adopt new constitutions in Student Assembly; if you don't believe it, ask some of the afore mentioned group.

The Senior Class may feel either happy or sad when this book comes out and they know their days in K. S. T. C. Hays are nearly over. College days aren't so bad after all. We all wonder how it feels to wear one of those dignified gowns and mortar boards around with the danger ever lurking near that we might find ourselves swimming in the fish pond if we were caught on the campus without it.

Oh well! Anyway it's lots of fun to be a Senior, and be royally entertained by the Juniors with a banquet, and there's the Senior play, and Commencement Week. We're all hoping to be Seniors some day.

The Junior's life is one of work, care, tireless striving and tedious study. As the Junior class edits the yearbook, gives a play, entertains the seniors with a banquet and participates in various other campus activities, Junior life is just one thing after another.

We have a very able president. It seems that presidencies run in the family, for we elected William A. Lewis, Jr., the son of the head of our institution, to guide us through our curved path of difficulties.

EUNICE BRADBURY	- - - - -	Secretary-Treasurer

The Sophomore class consists of a number of very important people, all Sophomores, of course. They are the mighty monarchs who rule the unwieldy Freshmen with an IRON HAND. It's the business of this powerful band to enforce the wearing of caps and arm bands during the football season. In the spring, a track meet is held when Sophomore warriors battle with belittled but ingenious Freshmen. If the Freshmen win, all is well; if not—oh how hard it is to remember to wear that cap or arm band. This is where the Sophomores again instruct the unfortunates by the PADDLE LINE method and FISH POND technique.

M-a-m-m-a-a, we sometimes hear around the campus after returning to school in the fall. We look around and discover some bundle of humanity with tears in its eyes and a mouth the shape of an inverted harvest moon.

But from such as these eventually come those who have scaled the dizzy heights and risen to the exalted state of fame known only to Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

After all, life as a Freshman is always remembered as thrilling as well as heart rending. Paddle lines and bonfires are not so bad when certain members of the afore said class are elected to positions such as Beauty Queen, Most Popular Woman, and so forth.

ATHLETICS

A. F. SCHOEPEL

Head Coach

A. F. "Andy" Schoepfel took charge of the Tiger football destiny during the absence of W. D. Weidlein, who is spending a year of sabbatical leave at Leland Stanford. Schoepfel is a product of Nebraska University, where he was an all-Missouri Valley end. In private life he is a lawyer, with a practice at Ness City.

Schoepfel's specialty was defense, and his ability in that department played a large part in making the Hays line one of the strongest in the Central Conference, while his personality won him an enviable place in the hearts of his squad.

Harold Schmidt, assistant to Schoepfel and backfield coach, has served in this capacity since 1927, when he graduated from Kansas University with an enviable record in both football and basketball.

CAPTAIN JOE MAHONEY

Senior

Bunker Hill

Guard and Tackle

Weight 210 lbs.

As captain of 1929's fighting Tigers, Mahoney made a name for himself both as a leader and as a player, gaining positions on the second all-conference and all-state teams.

Mahoney's graduation after four years spent in making history on Hays athletic teams will leave a place hard to fill.

Backfield Coach

CARL FIREBAUGH
Freshman End Augusta
Weight 160 lbs.

When Schoepel was sorely in need of ends Firebaugh stepped into the breach and made good.

SIDNEY ZEIGLER
Senior Guard Codell
Weight 215 lbs.

Proving that a good big man is better than a good little man, the bare-headed, smiling Zeigler battered opposing lines to earn a second all-conference guard position.

WARREN PORTENIER
Junior Tackle Golden, Colo.
Weight 180 lbs.

Portenier's fighting spirit and qualities of leadership revealed in the 1929 season won him a clear title to the 1930 captaincy, while his defensive line play was important in making the Tiger line feared in the conference.

JOE MAHONEY—Captain

Senior FLOYD CARTER Kipp
 Halfback
 Weight 180 lbs.

Always doing more than he received credit for, this great triple threat back was a perennial star on Hays teams. Who can imagine a Hays line-up without Carter?

Junior FRED FRY Pawnee Rock
 Halfback
 Weight 190 lbs.

Big and fast, Fry was a valuable reserve back of the kind coaches like to have.

Senior SAM ROBINSON Lucas
 Half and End
 Weight 165 lbs.

Sam's versatility proved its worth in frequent relief roles in both line and backfield.

 Guard
 Weight 215 lbs.

Not only a big man, but a good big man, this 215 pound sophomore guard was the immovable object in the Hays line.

The

Freshman TINE HARBAUGH
Guard Bunker Hill
Weight 180 lbs.

A big freshman whose defensive work promises much for years to come.

Senior PAUL SANDY
End Covert
Weight 175 lbs.

In his first year of football Sandy developed into a capable, pass-snagging end, completely solving half of Schoeppel's end problem.

Freshman JESSE WOODRUFF
Quarterback Minneapolis
Weight 155 lbs.

The "freshman flash" he came to be called because of his speed. Jesse should solve all Tiger quarterback problems for the next few years.

Senior JULIUS BAHL
Halfback Hays
Weight 175 lbs.

Bahl filled Chiney Traylor's shoes as the Tiger scoring ace. His spectacular play won him a second all-conference berth and all-state mention.

Sophomore JESSE SCHMITT
Center Fairview
Weight 190 lbs.

Big, blonde, and capable, Jess held the center of the line solid and passed accurately. With two years left, he shows promise of a great center.

Senior MARVIN BARROWS Ness City
 Center
 Weight 160 lbs.

Red hair, a likeable grin, and fight made Barrows a highly prized Tiger. He saw action at center.

Senior HARLOW ANDERSON Linwood
 End and Tackle
 Weight 165 lbs.

A rock on defense and a whirlwind on offense, Anderson out-guessed and out-charged his opponents in a manner which more than made up for his deficiency in weight.

Senior THEODORE ROTHE Bison
 Fullback
 Weight 160 lbs.

Only 160 pounds, but full of drive and fight, Rothe proved himself a valuable man in the pinches.

Senior ROLLEN NIPPS Phillipsburg
 Fullback
 Weight 175 lbs.

Nipps was the silent partner of the Hays backfield. Although he never carried the ball, his great interference and defensive work was of tremendous team value.

Senior CHARLIE GISH Palco
 Quarterback
 Weight 152 lbs.

Brains, not brawn, was Gish's specialty, and his brains coupled with his speed made him not only an efficient field general but a feared runner in a broken field.

The Season

Hopes were high at the start of the 1929 football season with 12 lettermen reporting for practice, and a promising supply of new material. But a fatal weakness soon developed—a dearth of experienced ends and a lack of driving power in the backfield.

The 3—0 loss to Hastings in the night game which opened the season proved the importance of this weakness. Better form was shown in the first conference game in which the champion Emporia Teachers were extended to their utmost to eke out a 6—0 victory.

But against Pittsburg the team took another backset and the Gorillas romped away with a 13—0 victory, which was followed by a 6—7 loss to the College of Emporia.

New power was shown the next week in the unexpected 13—0 victory over Wichita University, and the Tigers promptly followed by trouncing Southwestern 19—6 two weeks later. But in the final game the famed Hays line met its match and fell before a powerful Washburn team by a 26—0 score, giving the Tigers 2 wins and 4 losses for sixth place in the conference standings.

HAROLD SCHMIDT
Coach of Basketball

Harold Schmidt, head coach of basketball and assistant football mentor, has presided over Hays court destinies for three seasons. Coming here in 1927 from Kansas University, where he gained Big Six court honors, Schmidt has developed sparse material into consistently dangerous teams. Although never high in ranking, Schmidt's cagers are noted for their fight and are never counted out of the running.

Dazzling speed, deceptive floor play, uncanny shooting, and lots of fight. No wonder Carter won honorable mention.

Quinter SCOTT WYLIE Sophomore
 Center

Lean, lanky, and cool, Wylie's height and basket eye won him a permanent position. A valuable man for next year.

Linwood HARLOW ANDERSON Senior
 Guard

He graduated at the end of the fall semester, but proved his worth as a fighting guard and a scoring threat.

The Season

Two games won and ten lost may look bad, but that tells only what the 1930 cagers did, not what they were. A crew of smooth, hard-working, cooperating players, a team without a star, these boys made themselves feared throughout the conference as a worm likely to turn and always sure to give a good battle.

Starting without Carter and Houdyshell, both veterans, the Tigers split two practice games with Dutch Lorbeer's Peru Bobcats, then dropped the opening conference game to the Wheatshockers 21—36.

The addition of Carter and Houdyshell at the end of the semester helped, but still the Tigers lost, to Washburn 18—19, to Pittsburg 23—16, and to Kansas Wesleyan 28—33 in a non-conference tilt.

Another loss to Emporia Teachers by 23—30 was followed by the first league victory over College of Emporia, Wylie's famous hot streak gaining a 26—24 margin. A relapse followed which resulted in a 47—17 defeat by Wichita and a 22—32 loss to Southwestern, after which Pittsburg again took the Tigers for a 33—17 count.

Then the worm turned to avenge the earlier Wesleyan defeat by a 33—21 victory and carried on to trounce Southwestern 29—24, playing without Sandy, center, who was injured in the last C. of E. game. Two more bitter losses, one to the Emporia Teachers 26—25 and the final to Washburn 31—34 ended the season and consigned the Tigers to sixth place.

Of the six regularly used players, Mahoney, Bahl and Sandy are lost by graduation, leaving Wylie, Houdyshell, and Carter as a nucleus for next year's team, which will also be fortified by Stephenson, Werth, and Hines, Sophomore reserves who saw frequent action in 1930.

HAROLD SCHMIDT
Coach

Taking charge of track activities during the absence of Weidlein, Schmidt entered new duties with practically an entirely inexperienced squad.

An abbreviated 1929 track season qualified only three men for letters, two dual meets constituting the most disastrous track season of late Tiger history. Both resulted in losses, Wesleyan winning 86—45 and Sterling 88—43.

The graduation of Harry Kleweno left Floyd Carter and Glen Lowry as the only 1929 lettermen to carry over for 1930 competition. Around these and a number of promising recruits Schmidt faced the job of molding a well-balanced aggregation to uphold Tiger track tradition.

Meets scheduled including Sterling College, and Kansas Wesleyan in duals and the Central Conference meet at Topeka, May 9 and 10.

GLEN LOWRY

Dashes—Hurdles

One of the chief point winners in the speed events of the 1929 season, Lowry remains as one of the two lettermen in school for the current season.

FLOYD CARTER

Weights—Dashes

Forced by scarcity of material to add to his accustomed duties as weight heaver to assist the speed department, Carter proved his versatility as a track man.

After establishing a state wide reputation as the home of track teams under former Coach Mandeville, the unexpected and disastrous slump of track material has left the Tigers in a difficult season.

The old teams are broken up, but indications are that a new crop of track worthies are coming on, and if the promising new material develops Hays should once more be queen of the cinder paths.

Among those recruits who justify this prediction are Max Campbell, distance; Arlyn Drake, hurdles; and Carl Firebaugh, pole vault.

Although Hays does not engage in an active interscholastic tennis schedule, interest is high on the campus, and tennis is the chief sport of the undergrads. Formation this year of a campus Tennis Association is expected to stimulate activity in competitive tennis.

Waldo Wickizer remains as the only tennis letterman, following the graduation of Walter Bollinger, former team mate. Chief among the aspirants to the position of running mate are Howard Beeth, Paul Sweetland, and Harold Palmer.

The Women's Athletic Association is an organization of women students who are interested in the promotion of healthful living, in sportsmanship, and in an all around development in physical efficiency.

To further these ends the association sponsors all sports, including soccer, hockey, basketball, volleyball, tenniquoits, baseball, tennis, swimming, dancing, hiking and skating. Also the Orchesus, dancing society; the Duck Club, swimming organization; and the Tennis Association.

Each spring the W. A. A. holds a physical efficiency meet and play day for the high school girls of Northwestern Kansas. This year the meet was held April 4 and 5. The association is a growing organization and occupies an important place among women's activities on the campus.

During the past year a Health Department was established in our institution headed by Dr. Morris and Miss Jessie Pearce, College Nurse. Since this has taken place there seems to be an unhealthy atmosphere hanging over the student body and faculty. I think one will find that really Dr. Morris and Miss Pearce are such likeable people that we feel we must consult them whether we are ailing to a great degree or not.

Debate and Oratory

The question for debate selected by the chapters of Pi Kappa Delta was: "Resolved that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except such forces as are needed for police purposes."

In the pre-season debate tournament held at Southwestern College, Winfield, on December 6 and 7, K. S. T. C. of Hays entered two teams, a men's team, the members of which were Ernest Baker and H. G. Burgess. Crystal Griffith and Mary Doubrava were the members of the women's team. Each team took part in three debates. The men's team won from St. Marys and lost to Phillips and Pittsburg. The women's team lost to Tarkio, Sterling, and Phillips.

A demonstration debate with K. S. A. C. was held at Norton on December 9. The members of the K. S. T. C. team were Ernest Baker and Louie Garlow. An audience decision resulted in 70 votes for the negative and 40 for the affirmative.

Three contestants participated in the preliminary oratorical contest, Marjorie McVicker, Clyde Putnam, and Bernard Roth. This contest was won by Bernard Roth.

K. S. T. C. sent to the Pi Kappa Delta Convention in Wichita, representatives in oratory, debate, and extemporary speaking.

May Festival

During the first week in May, The Kansas State Teachers College of Hays holds its annual Music Festival. This is an important event in the lives of many of the people in Western Kansas.

Some students have made their decision to attend this school from that very event. It gives most high school students quite a thrill to compete in a contest where as many as eighty-one schools are represented. In 1929 there were 2,200 students registered.

This year's program was as follows: Wednesday evening, April 30, "The Passion Play" was presented by the Carl Cramer Passion Play Company of Chicago under the direction of Henry Edward Malloy and supported by the chorus and orchestra of the College.

Thursday evening, May 1, a band concert was given by the united bands entered in the contest.

Friday night a May Festival Dance program was presented by the Orchesus and assisted by the physical education department.

Saturday night a joint program was given by the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs.

In 1927 the Opera "Aida" was presented with Atico Bernabini conducting; a K. S. T. C. chorus and orchestra supported.

In 1928, "Faust" was given with Henry Edward Malloy directing and the college students making up the chorus and the orchestra. Below are some characteristic poses by the leads in "Aida," "Faust," and "The Passion Play."

A black and white portrait of a young man with dark hair, wearing round-rimmed glasses, a dark suit jacket, a white shirt, and a patterned tie. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a mottled grey.

WALTER WALLERSTEDT

The Print Shop

This is a nice place to put in a note about our "Service Station." Oh, I beg your pardon; I mean Print Shop.

Now that the error was made, I believe you will agree with me that it is an accommodating place to go with a very accommodating man in charge.

Walter Wallerstedt is always on the job when any printing needs to be done and is ready to help when help is needed most.

He already knows we think he is a great fellow on the campus so we'll say no more about it. "You're welcome, Walter."

ORGANIZATIONS

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Mens Christian Association, a student movement among students of other lands as well as America, is endeavoring to live life at its finest and best.

The movement has its significance in the world peace movement, racial understanding, and the selection of life's values in every day living. It is inter-denominational and welcomes any young man who desires to live up to the best that life has to offer, regardless of his creed or philosophy of life.

Christ has been selected as the organization's present example for an individual who lives life at its best. But the movement is bigger than sectarianism and broader than doctrinal creed. Among its members are the best young manhood of every land and clime who want only the best that life has to give.

The purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association is three-fold:

1. We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.
2. We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.
3. In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him.

Art Lover's Club

The Art Lovers' Club gives lovers of art study an opportunity to study different branches of art. Each semester some particular field is studied. Last year the club took up study of pottery. This year modern painters and their paintings were given intensive study.

Each year the club gives an art exhibit, at which collections of modern painters are secured. An exhibit of work done in art departments is also given. With the proceeds a painting is bought for the art gallery in Forsyth Library.

Quill Club

This club is a chapter of the National College Quill Club, an organization intended to foster and develop literary expression and the spiritual and intellectual individuality of chosen members of both faculty and student body.

The organ of the Quill Club is a quarterly magazine called The Aerend, which is made up of articles, short stories, poems, and sketches written by members of the Quill Club. The title "Aerend" has been derived from the Anglo-Saxon word "aerende," which, by way of the Middle English "erende" or erande", has given us our modern "errand." The older significance of the term included the idea of a mission, something to be told. This title is peculiarly appropriate for a publication having for its prime purpose the fostering of the scholarly and cultural attitudes towards the problems of life and civilization.

The Aerend is sent in exchanges to all colleges and universities having such publications and is also exchanged with the periodicals of many learned societies in the United States.

Membership in the Quill Club is obtained by election, after nomination by the Membership Committee.

English Club

The English Club is one of the oldest campus activities, and has had a healthy growth for several years. The purpose of the organization is the study, both critical and sympathetic of current literature, the creation of a desire for, and an appreciation of good literature; the encouragement of the critical attitude formed for intellectual and emotional beauties of the written and spoken word.

Membership is not confined to students of the College although its organization is intended primarily for that purpose. The club tries to fill a cultural and community need. It welcomes visitors. Meetings are held once every two weeks in the spring and fall semesters.

The Science Club

The Science Club, one of the newer Activity Groups on the Campus, is also one of the largest, comprising in its membership approximately one-fifth of the student body. It is an organization of instructors, students and others interested in science, offering an opportunity for self-expression through free discussion and an acquaintance with all the fields of science, particularly with the view of showing the relationship of all branches to one another, and of each of these to everyday life. Its programs are, therefore, varied to include popular lectures, reading of papers giving the results of research and modern scientific development, and moving pictures depicting aspects of science. Membership is open to any who are interested in science.

Your Boy's Success in Life

Your boy's success in life is purely a matter of training. He must get his schooling, learn the meaning of Thrift, and if it is possible he should finally get a college education.

Juvenile Insurance is a "training, education, and estate" plan brought to the highest possible state of certainty. An insurance policy is issued on the life of the child between one day of age and age ten.

In accordance with your plans for the child's future, the policy may mature as an endowment when the child reaches College age, or later if money is desired for business purposes, or—

The policy may be taken over by the child as an estate already established when legal age is attained.

IN EVENT OF PARENT'S TOTAL DISABILITY, PREMIUMS ARE NOT LONGER REQUIRED—BUT POLICY REMAINS IN FORCE

Standard Senior Teachers College, Rank A

On February 22, 1930, sitting at Atlantic City, New Jersey, the American Association of Teachers' Colleges conferred this rank upon the Kansas State Teachers' College of Hays. This action of the Association was the culmination of the report of a board of examiners. This is the highest rank possible for a teachers' college to attain. The American Association of Teachers' Colleges is the authoritative agency for determining the rank of a teachers' college.

Standard Liberal Arts College

The Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the North Central Association of Universities, Colleges and Secondary Schools, sitting at Chicago, on March 19, 1930, rated the Kansas State Teachers' College of Hays a Standard Senior College.

The Commission on Institutions of Higher Education had sent three inspectors to visit the teachers' college at Hays. The first one sent was Dean Charles W. Hunt of the Western Reserve University; the second was Dr. A. A. Reed of the University of Nebraska, and the last one was Dr. Thomas J. Kirby of the University of Iowa.

The points which determined our rating were:

- Quality of our faculty training
- Our library and laboratories
- Our curriculum
- The handling of the finances of the college
- Our athletic situation and such other facts as go to make up a report on the actual condition of a college. The library was especially referred to by the inspectors, and the buildings and the plan of the campus were so noteworthy that they made special mention of this item. The inspectors were well pleased with the college as a whole. Every inspector recommended that the college be accredited as a Standard Senior College.

The recognition which was won by these two ratings marks a very important mile stone in the life of the college. It now means that the scholarship on the campus is recognized as of high rank, and the students may transfer their credits, because the most authoritative agencies in the United States have established the credits of the college as worthy of acceptance by the best institutions in America.

CONFIDENCE

There's a world of meaning in that word, CONFIDENCE. Your parents have confidence in you when they send you away to school, and you students merit that confidence when you stay through the four years that are necessary to secure your diploma.

Then when you go out into the world for yourself, it is your job (by no means a small one) to secure the confidence of the people with whom you transact business.

This will be accomplished by fair dealing to all, "a dollar's worth for every dollar." In our thirty-three years of business we have at all times endeavored to maintain a standard that will "follow through" the years that are to come. Folks buy diamonds from the dealer who has merited their confidence.

The contestants for Beauty Queen, Popular Men, and Popular Women were chosen from six representatives from each class, who had been nominated by that class.

In former years candidates were voted upon when the books were purchased. This year the student body were permitted to vote at the time they had their pictures taken for the 1930 Reveille.

A Beauty section was added this year with Beauty Queens chosen by the student body. In former years it was strictly a popularity contest.

Never before had the Also Rans been published in the Reveille, but we feel that it is only fair to give them this consideration.

Hays Municipal Airport

The Hays Municipal airport is located one and one-half miles west of Hays, on U. S. highway 40, south of the Union Pacific Railway. This airport is the only one in the state of Kansas situated on state property.

The airport is comprised of 160 acres. It has three 1300-foot graveled runways on the floor-like field, which alone is an evidence of the advantageous engineering. No other port in the state possesses this unique advantage. The hangar when completed will be adequate to accommodate the largest planes.

The U. S. Airways, Inc., made their inaugural flight July 28, 1929. The first person to buy transportation over the line was one of our own professors, Paul Fontaine. The number of persons who patronize the line is increasing steadily, due to the excellent service and reasonable rates.

At the present time, the planes make reservation stops here, but in the very near future, Hays will be a connection point.

The east and west route will cross the north and south route at Hays. One route will run from St. Louis to Denver, and the other from Oklahoma City to Omaha. With Hays as a refueling station, planes will be able to carry an additional 550 pounds in passengers or mail. Hays will be the connection point for passenger service. Within a very short time it is predicted, Hays will be an air mail terminal for Northwestern Kansas with distribution routes to rural sections.

Winning Victories for You!

In war, as Napoleon remarked, "It's heavy artillery that wins the victories." In merchandising, it's heavy buying power. The tremendous buying power of the J. C. Penney Stores finds expression in the ability of every store to give you substantial savings in low prices on every purchase you make! Buying in great quantities enables us to secure merchandise—in perfect condition and in the newest styles—at important savings. Let us prove to you—as we have to millions of others—that you may benefit by shopping here where quality goods, alert service and low prices prevail.

We Offer Service . . .

If you want to rent a house, or you want to sell a house, or buy a house, or have a house rented for you; if you need insurance—fire, tornado, indemnity; or if you have land you desire to exchange for a house or other land, or desire to sell—that is the service which the Bird Investment Company can offer you.

Myrna Tomlinson, Esta Moser, Edith Davidson, and Richard Zinszer passed the senior life saver's test. These tests are very difficult and require much hard work in preparation.

Duck Club

The Duck Club, women's swimming organization, was organized for the purpose of furthering the technique of swimming and for giving the life savers an opportunity of teaching swimming and also life saving methods. A woman to become a member must do in good form, the back stroke, side, side over-arm, trudgeon, English over-arm and trudgeon crawl, the standing dive, diving to recover an object from the bottom of the pool, treading water one minute, floating one minute, hair carry and resuscitation. Women seeking membership may try out only once each semester.

WOMEN LOVE DIAMONDS

When I came to this college I was a sweet, innocent young man. Then, when one of my fraternity brothers made a date for me, I was at a loss as how to conduct myself. He said: "Treat her like a caveman; she loves it."

That night I called. After sitting on the couch for fifteen minutes, I was about to hold her hand, when she seized me and kissed me with great passion, not once, but three times. Panting and struggling, I burst out, "My God, now you will have to marry me!" And she laughed at me.

Do you wonder that I sneer at women? What do I care if I go blind? I've seen everything.

May Fete

The May Fete was held Friday evening, May 2, as part of the Music Festival. A May Queen, Gertrude Angell, and a Lord of Revelers, Rollen Nipps, were elected from the senior class to reign at the Fete. The arena of the Coliseum was transformed into a village green where the plowmen, shepherds, milkmaids, nymphs, and chimney sweeps danced in honor of their queen. From Sherwood Forest came Robin Hood, Maid Marion, and their famous consorts. More than two hundred students took part in this event which signifies the mythical ideas of the return of spring with its May Poles and its pagan ideas of rejuvenation and purification. The color schemes and the costumes were worked out by the students in the department of art, under the direction of Miss Elsie Harris.

Efficiency Meet and Play Day

Nine high schools entered teams in the fifth annual efficiency meet and play day for high school girls which was held on the campus, Saturday, April 5. Each team was made up of 8 girls. The high schools represented were: Larned, winner of first place; Garfield, second place; Hays, third place; Norton, Bogue, Jetmore, Smith Center, Beloit, and Palco.

The events in which the teams participated were: marching, posture, coordination tests, stunts, dancing, track and field, and a health contest in which each team entered one representative. The meet was sponsored by the W. A. A.

OBSERVATIONS OF A PROFESSOR

I took my place before my class,
Which buzzed like swarms of noisy
bees;
And, looking up, I saw a sight—
My word! A row of naked knees;
And glaring there before my eyes,
Were legs of every shape and size.

I sometimes stroll the campus green,
When care or worry plagues.
The pretty Co-ed flits about;
She's mostly arms and legs.
No matter where one goes, he sees
Just scores and scores of naked knees.

minute."

"Yeah, I'd like to see him."

The Senior Play

The senior class play "The Importance of Being Earnest," a three act comedy farce by Oscar Wilde, was given Tuesday evening, April 15, in the College Auditorium. Professor James R. Start, instructor in speech and debate, coached the play. The action in the play centers around Jack Worthing, who as a means of escape from his unusual social surroundings, has invented a brother, Earnest, a youth of reputed wildness, whom he is obliged from time to time to aid.

Observations by Prof. Seaweed

THE FRESHMAN

Little Freshman, sweet and prim,
Doesn't know what's waiting him.
Lambkin in the slaughter pen,
Awaits his fate from uppermen.
But of all the stale old pranks,
From chapel dates to paddle spansks!
They sell him tickets to his class;
He must salute when Seniors pass.

He's made to wear a cap of green,
Must never with a girl be seen.
The lordly Soph he must obey,
Must do his bidding night or day.
And should he fail in anything,
Swift retribution it will bring.
And thus it is that soon, or later,
He learns to love his Alma Mater.

THE JUNIOR

Two fateful years he's traveled through,
And yet he's living still;
The danger point is over now,
Because he's passed fool's hill.

We've tried to guide him through the time.
When folly drinks her fill;
But now he's almost made the grade,
The danger of fool's hill.

He's taken on some good horse-sense,
But lost much froth and frill;
He shows some signs of first-class
stuff,
Since he has passed fool's hill.

THE SOPH

The College Soph is standing proof
Of Darwin's evolution:
Last year a Frosh, but now, b'gosh,
He owns the institution.
He plainly shows how much he knows,
By his lordly inclination;
He goes around with an air profound,
Dispensing information.
The wonder grows that all he knows
Is held by one small nutshell;
He can't see why he's been passed by
As Prexy's private counsel.

THE SENIOR

Like a full-rigged ship, starting out
on a trip,
And anxious to meet all the gales;
But the struggle and strife to be met
out in life
May take some of the wind from his sails.

Most surely he's wise, steeped in lore to his eyes;
Why, wisdom's the air he inhales.
But, bitter the pills when he pays his own bills;
'Twill take some of the wind from
his sails.

We bid you adieu, as you pass in review;
We pray that your courage ne'er fails.
But you'll be less cock-sure over life's rosy lure,
When you've lost some wind from your sails.

Tiger Has Proud Athletic Tradition

The year 1913 was epochal in the athletic history of the Kansas State Teachers College of Hays. According to old records the same year in which President W. A. Lewis became head of the institution it obtained inter-collegiate standing in sports events.

With the increase in attention to athletics the college furnished, for the first time, the moleskins donned by the men who played football. Previous to 1913 it was the custom for each man to furnish his own suit. Also in this same year Hays met its first college foe, old Cooper College, now known as Sterling College. Previously, only high school and independent teams had been played.

The athletic fund in 1913 would not permit the purchase of "K" sweaters for the football men, so the women students gave an old-fashioned box social, raised the necessary money, and sweaters were given to 12 men.

The time-honored name "Tigers," which has rung across the gridiron and within Sheridan Coliseum these many years, also appeared first in 1913. The insignia was first worn on jerseys in a game with McPherson. It is noteworthy that the Tigers won the first two games under their new moniker.

A year later, in 1914, the Tigers defeated the Jayhawkers of Kansas University by one point in the first basketball game between the two schools.

In 1917, and again in 1921, both times while a member of the old Kansas Conference, the Hays Tigers fought their way through to state football championships. These records stand among the indelible facts of the Tiger teams. Both pennants were won by a clean slate of straight victories, six each. However, in 1917 the Emporia Teachers also held a thousand per cent due to a tie game.

Although possessing a wealth of basketball tradition, the Tigers never succeeded in scaling championship heights in that field of sport. Nevertheless, the Tigers' claws have left their mark in every field of sport.

During the middle '20s Hays rated one of the leading contenders for track and field honors in the state. For four years, beginning in 1924, the Tigers remained undefeated in dual meets and won successively the hexangular meet in '26 and '27.

Late in 1927 the Central Conference was formed, which brought into closer membership the seven leading colleges of the state, including Hays, Emporia, Pittsburg, Washburn, Southwestern, College of Emporia, and Wichita University. Competition at once became far keener than ever before because this closely-knit association enabled the arranging of round-robin schedules in all major sports. Despite this the Tigers lifted one conference championship, winning the wrestling title of 1928.

Sophomores Win Meet

FRESHMEN TO WEAR CAPS

Entering the contest with strong favorites doped to win, the dope bucket was soon upset and the Freshmen lost 60 to 40½ in their dual meet with the Sophomore class Tuesday afternoon. The contest held to decide whether the yearlings would have to wear their caps from now until the close of school uncovered some promising new material for the Varsity track squad.

Max Campbell was high point man with three firsts, giving promise of developing into a dependable distance runner. Firebaugh, a Sophomore, also showed ability in high jump and pole vault. (K. S. T. C. Leader)

But what's the use, the Sophomores always win. Maybe I should have said nearly always. I've heard several Freshmen say those funny little caps are quite convenient after all. One doesn't have one's hair blowing down into one's eyes and that's something. We've all passed through our Baby Daze and have come out none the worse for it.

It will be your turn to rule next year, Freshmen, so really it isn't so bad after all.

Noah's Ark

Once upon a time, long before Chris Columbus said the world wasn't on the square and thus won the popular razzberry, or even before Wesley Hall was built, there lived a guy named Noah.

That wasn't all. This Noah person one day was driving down the main street of his home town looking for a filling station where he got a hunch that the whole world was soon going to be so wet that it would make Venice look like Death Valley.

Now Noah was one of these quick-to-take-the-hint gazooks, so he forthwith and anon gave up golf and took up yachting.

Then he began to build the world's largest houseboat, which he finished without even hitting his thumb. He always used both hands on a hammer. This done he took in a deep breath and a fifteen cent matinee. Then he busted a bottle of Tanlac over the bow and christened the ship "Ark" in honor of Arkansas, which he thought was part of the Canary Islands.

Next he went to the park, took a ride on the roller coaster, bought some peanuts and went back to the ark with all the animals following. He was a kind hearted cuss and took them all aboard and got a passport for each. He showed no partialty. That he had a charitable disposition is proved by the fact that we have poodle dogs today.

As the thing was sort of a family affair, Noah took his family along, each having been married for the occasion. After leaving a forwarding address at the post-office he went aboard, pulled in the gang-plank and cut the rope. Then after checking up his lunch list he shut all the windows, set out the rain barrel, got a copy of the Police Gazette and sat down to wait for the tide to come in.

The barometer sank lower, the mosquitoes bit faster and the fireflies began to feel put out. The day was getting darker and darker and Noah was just in the act of putting a nickel in the gas meter when he heard the first pitter-patter on the roof. Mrs. Noah suddenly remembered she had forgotten some clothes on the line at home and nearly rocked the boat.

For forty days and nights Noah paced the deck with an umbrella and a full set of "Weeds." The scenery on all sides looked like a farm in Florida bought through the mail. Then the sun came out and Noah cut another notch in his watch.

One morning while Noah was eating his second grape-fruit on the half-shell, the old schooner went aground. Noah looked at his road map and said that they were on the top of Mt. Ararat, which before the dry spell was quite a knoll. The general cry had been, "Oh for a little island"—and this was it.

Noah fed a dove an extra shot of bird seed and sent him out to see if the world was safe for anything but gold fishes and bull frogs. After coming back once without information, Mr. Dove was sent a second time and came back with an olive branch that hadn't been raised in a hot house. Noah gave him the air the third time and at this writing he is still gone.

Old Noah used his head for more than just a hat rack and figured the dove had found "rooms for rent" on dry land. So he opened the trap doors, gave his menagerie the gate and left the "Ark" in dry docks. And the world wasn't long getting back to normalcy. But for many years the Noah family was the main cheese.

PUN

Question: Why is a Crow?
Answer: 'Cause (caws).

This answer refers to the ability of a crow to call or caw in its flight, the plural being caws, which sounds much like the corruption of the word because meaning, as Webster says, "the cause for which."

PLAY ON WORDS

First Idiot: "Can we throw beer bottles at the student councilman who tries to collect for the Student Council debt or not?"

Second Idiot: "No; only soft drink bottles."

[The term soft is applied to carbonated beverages but in this case refers also to the glass of the bottle as well as to the drink itself.]

Preamble to Ye Bubbles Section

We, the funny, near funny, and would-be funny people, people of the Hays Abnormal, in order to form a more perfect Reveille, establish injustice, insure domestic hilarity, provide for the general offense, promote the general warfare and secure the blessings of the readers to ourselves and our posterity, do disdain and relinquish this constellation of high class bunk.

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1. Readers must give joke editor ample warning and allow him at least one length start before retaliating.

ARTICLE II

SECTION 1. Readers should not laugh at these jokes—they may be old themselves some day.

In Closing

The Reveille meant a lot of work for all concerned in its publication. If everyone had not been willing to cooperate with me the task would have been impossible. Every person on the staff has done the part assigned to him and has done it well. I am taking this opportunity to thank those who have contributed to the success of the annual, but who receive no recognition.

I was indeed fortunate to have such a capable person as Lawrence Saylor for Business Manager. I never had to worry about the financial end of The Reveille and was perfectly free to go ahead with the editorial part of the work.

I want to express my appreciation of our faculty advisor, Mr. Edgar P. Schowalter, for the help and advice he has given us in our work. It has been an invaluable asset to have a man like Mr. Schowalter for an advisor.

I am indebted to the Mid-Continent Engraving Company of Wichita, and the Consolidated Printing and Stationery Company of Salina, for the workman-like manner in which they turned out the engravings and printing. They have been very cooperative in their efforts and have been a leading factor in publishing what we feel is the most outstanding yearbook that any Junior class of K. S. T. C. Hays has ever published.

We have made some mistakes but—have you ever seen a yearbook that was perfect in every way? Oh, you have! Well! we've never seen one, so we don't feel that all our efforts have been in vain.

With best wishes to the Next Year's Staff,

Sincerely yours,

GENEVA WRIGHT
